

GDPR General Data Protection Regulation

Data Breaches

Must now be reported by controllers, and within 72 hours.

You'll need to get in touch with your Supervisory Authority.

An illustration showing two hands holding a yellow folder. The folder has the words 'TOP SECRET' written on it in red, bold, capital letters. The hands are rendered in a simple, flat style with orange skin tones. The person holding the folder is wearing a dark suit jacket with a grey cuff. The background is a light peach color with a darker peach horizontal band near the bottom. The overall style is clean and modern.

Your Supervisory Authority

Every EU country has them, and you don't need to register.
(Phew!)

Data Protection Officers

Larger companies will need to officially appoint a DPO to keep an eye on privacy compliance.

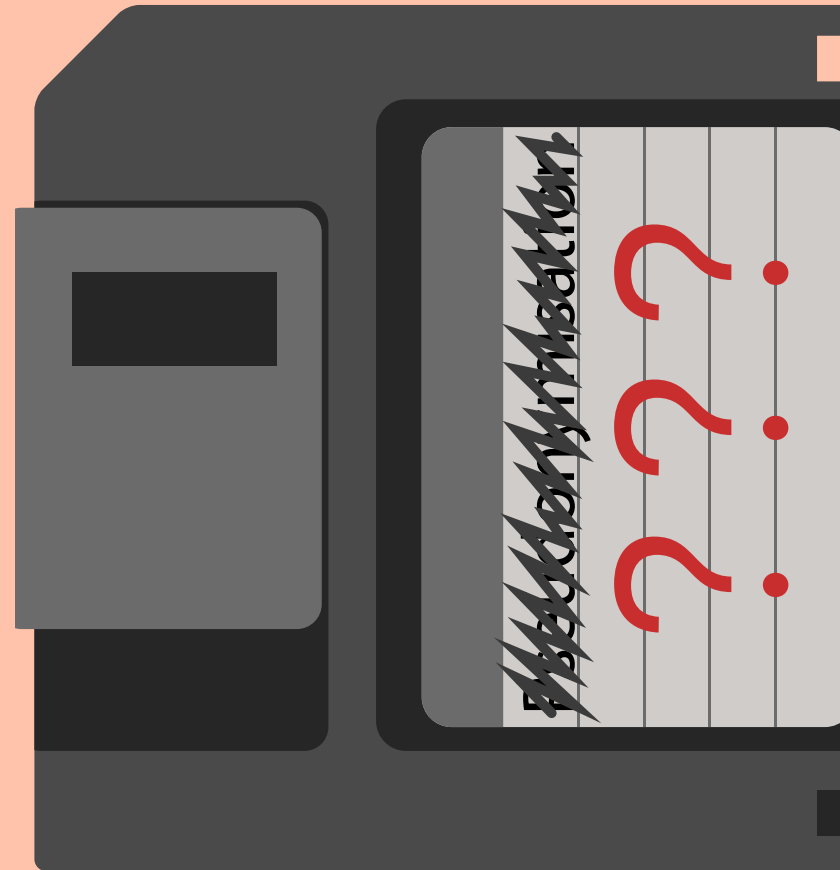

Subject Access Requests

Must be completed within one month.

Data Removal/
'Right to be Forgotten'
People have the 'right to erasure' – meaning having data permanently deleted.

People covered Everyone in the EU. Even if the company dealing with the data is outside of the EU.

Consent

No ambiguity. Must be given freely, not tricked, or taken from inactivity or silence.

PIAs

Privacy Impact Assessments are privacy risk assessments that DPOs will need to carry out.

Aaaaaaand breathe. We'll go through it all in the course.
